A Hoot of a Day at the Hawk Conservancy Trust!

Oboe class had a fantastic day out visiting the Hawk Conservancy Trust in Andover, where they got up close to some amazing birds of prey!

They started their adventure with an 'Introduction to Owls' workshop, where they explored different birds of prey feathers, discovered some fascinating owl facts and enjoyed a walk around the park. The highlight of the workshop was a trip to the woodland arena, where the students met a very special owl called Wispa! Throughout the day, they watched two incredible bird shows. The pupils were absolutely fascinated as the birds swooped and soared through the air, flying right before their eyes! There were lots of wide eyes and excited faces as they watched these magnificent birds in action.

The Oboes also made time for some fun in the play park and enjoyed exploring the rest of the Trust. They loved spotting all the different birds in their enclosures and were mesmerised by their movements, calls and sounds.

It was a wonderful day filled with new experiences, sensory discoveries and plenty of smiles. What a hoot-tastic adventure!

PARENTS' GROUP COFFEE AFTERNOON - 18th November – 1.30pm
Ever wondered whether it was worth attending one of these sessions?
Wonder no more!
"I find the group comforting and good to know I'm not alone with my struggles. It's good to have a chat and a bit of banter" – Tawnie (parent)

Putting Down Roots for the Future

Our students in Cello class had a wonderful time planting trees yesterday. They followed instructions carefully, worked brilliantly as a team, and represented the school extremely well. As a special treat, they were even rewarded with a drink and a biscuit afterwards. People were very impressed with the children's enthusiasm, teamwork, and behaviour. In fact, they have already asked if we would like to take part again next year.

Well done, Cello Class!

SCHOOL SUPERSTAR OF THE WEEK – LINCOLN!

Lincoln is our resident artist and can be seen mostly covered in pens and Marmite (other leading brands are available) – they are his two main loves although he also enjoys spotting logos and can often be found drawing or spotting them in his environment. Lincoln is an out-doors person who looks forward to being able to climb, jump, swing and going to Forest School. He shows enthusiasm when going to Tesco as he lives in the hope the class will be able to swing past the Café so he can have some sausages. Other favourites of his are letters, numbers and animals. He also has a great sense of humour and an infectious giggle.
